

GLAD TO BE RID OF HER HUSBAND

Salt Lake Wife Will Not Prosecute Ward.

LET OTHER WOMAN DO THAT

SHORT, LIVELY CAREER OF BIG-AMIST IN THIS CITY.

The arrest Thursday in Oakland, Cal., of Michael T. Ward, the particulars of which were printed in yesterday's Herald, recalls the sensational incidents of his meteoric career in Salt Lake a few months ago. He cut a wide swath by appearing on the matrimonial stage as a railroad millionaire, and marrying the proprietress of a rooming house. As a sequel to the wedding, a girl who claimed to be his wife committed suicide in Denver, and he was arrested for bigamy. He was released on bail, and he made his exit rather suddenly. Now he is in jail for obtaining money goods in a crooked way, it is charged that he has married another wife, and it is said he may be brought to face a charge of bigamy and a suit for divorce.

Ward made his appearance in this city about a year ago, and with him came on paper represented that he was a magnate of wealth who would soon be much more wealthy.

Wedding and Wine Supper.
He wooed and won the hand of Mrs. Fox, the proprietress of the Eagle block rooming house, and they were married by Bishop Scammon. The wedding was quickly performed at the bishop's residence, but after it the parties and a few friends enjoyed a wine supper.

This was where the trouble began. Ward purchased $75 worth of fine wines and gave checks in payment for them. When the wine merchant sought payment the checks brought no money, and he appealed to the police for assistance. When the officers went to look for Ward they discovered that he had disappeared and even his new wife did not know where he was.

Following upon this came a report from Denver that a young woman, who called herself Mrs. Ward, had eloped with the wife of M. T. Ward, had committed suicide in a Denver hotel, after revealing a letter telling of Ward's marriage in this city.

Ward was finally caught in Ogden and brought back to face the charge of obtaining the wine under false pretenses. Ward declared that the checks were all right and the whole thing was a mistake. He promised to settle it up, and then called upon his wife for the money to square the thing, according to her assertions.

Would Not Help Him.

She refused to assist him or to have anything to do with the matter, and Ward spent some time in jail. When he got out he suddenly left and nothing was heard of him. The news came of his arrest for bigamy, a Jeweler, and of his marriage to another woman in California.

The officers here and in Oakland are working on the affair, and it is said that charges of bigamy may be filed against him either there or here.

Mrs. Ward, or Mrs. Fox, when seen yesterday, said that his actions had smudged her marriage, and she was of the church, and while she got time to think of it she would, of course, get a divorce in the courts.

"I haven't any time to bother about it," said Mrs. Ward, "nor any money to spend on him. So long as he doesn't bother me I don't care what is done. I was too glad to get rid of him to worry myself about what is done to him, although he ought to be in the penitentiary. But then I don't intend to go to the trouble to charge him with bigamy. He hasn't hurt me, and the other woman can do that if she wants to. I care nothing about it."

SAYS IT'S A LIE.

Mr. Markland Denies Statement About Taxes.

To The Salt Lake Herald:
An article published on page 3 of your paper dated Friday, June 6, commencing, "Angry at Board; Mr. Markland Denies He Will Pay No Taxes," is a lie. I made no such statement to anybody in any manner, shape or form, and the person who says I did is a liar. Furthermore, the notices which are sent out by the board of equalization stating that complaints in regard to the assessment of property will be heard from 10 to 4 on certain dates do not specify or state that any time in between will be taken for lunch or dinner or carousing, or anything of the kind. The time that I was at the board room was at 3 p. m. and no board was in session. A large number of people were waiting who had been waiting very patiently and quietly for the return of the august moguls who were supposed to be there between the hours of 10 and 4, according to their own notices.

C. B. MARKLAND.

(The story was given out in the county assessor's office—Ed. Herald.)

RAWLINS AS A LEADER

Mr. Moyle Says Utah Senator Occupies High Place Among Washington Statesmen.

Filled with enthusiasm over the flattering recognition which is being accorded to Utah's representatives at the national capital, James H. Moyle has returned from a brief visit to Washington.

"I was very much impressed," said Mr. Moyle, "by the high esteem in which Senator Rawlins is held. He is universally recognized as the leader among the Democrats of the senate, and his position on the Philippines and other important matters is taken as authority."

"Senator Rawlins' masterly speech in opposition to the administration's policy in the Philippines has brought him scores of commendatory letters from every section of the United States. All the writers speak in the highest terms of his effort. The demand for copies of his speech has been unprecedented. To make this speech was entrusted the Democratic right against the Philippine civil government bill, and his conduct of the opposition has won for him the cordial esteem of his party associates, together with the unquestioned recognition of his ability to lead."

"The senator has reflected credit, not only upon himself but upon the state he represents. Himself a product of Utah, he has given all with whom he has come in contact a better impression of this commonwealth. During the session of congress now drawing to a close Senator Rawlins has been kept very busy in the interests of the people of Utah and of the nation. In addition to the departmental business and matters of purely local interest he has received his personal attention, he is a member of such important committees as that on Indian affairs, foreign relations, geological survey, immigration, Pacific railroads, public buildings and Philippine affairs."

"He has seen to it that Utah was not forgotten by the national lawmakers. Ogden is to get a new public building, and the senate has passed this grant. The University of Utah additional lands on the Fort Douglas reservation, establishing a government assay office at Provo, and a fish hatchery at some point in the state. Senator Rawlins has also secured the passage of a number of private pension bills, one granting old pieces of ordnance to the Utah Indian war veterans and one providing for holding terms of court in the district of Utah."

"Senator Rawlins is also making a favorable impression. He is well thought of by the administration, and has the entire to the president at all times. Congressman Sutherland, too, is making a splendid record."

QUIET WITH POLICE.

Only Thirteen Arrests Made in Past Four Days.

Only thirteen arrests have been made by the police within the last four days and only two cases have been tried in the city court in that many days. Both defendants who appeared before the court were heard on the charge of drunkenness.

Vagrants have ceased to frequent the court and the officers declare that the city has at last been freed of the vast horde of wanderers which infested the city for weeks. No one has been seen since the threat of Judge Diehl to use his influence towards the reorganization of the chain gang. No arrangements have been made to put to work the city's prisoners, but the threat has the effect of ridding the city of its undesirable visitors.

"With the exception of a few of the advance guards who have reached the city in advance of the summer crowd, the city is at present in the best condition from the standpoint of the officers that it has been for years. No explanation has been offered for the condition of affairs, but by those who are in a position to know it is considered to be the calm which will precede the numerous thefts and burglaries during the Elks' convention, and while other crowds are in the city during the summer."

The diamond lifters and pickpockets who travel with all big crowds have already been removed in the city, but have been spotted in a number of cases by the detectives and taken to headquarters where they promised to desert from any crimes if permitted to remain in the city. Up to this time only a few thefts have been committed by the gang and no clue to their identity has been ascertained by the officers. Extra precautions will be taken by the police to guard the public from the plunderings of the gang during the summer, and a number of special police officers will be placed on the force for that purpose.

WRANGLE OVER READERS.

Took Text Book Convention Till Late in Afternoon to Decide.

The members of the state text book convention earned their salaries yesterday. They began early and worked until 7 o'clock in the evening. At the morning session, Southworth's New Language Lessons were adopted without difficulty. The books being published by Benjamin H. Sandborn & Co., who are represented here by J. G. Coffin.

Then came the tug of war, readers next being taken up. From the time that the consideration of readers was begun the battle waged furiously until 7 o'clock, when a conclusion was reached by the "Stepping Stones to Literature." Cyr's readers, and the Progress readers were the favorites, and it took until 7 o'clock in the evening. At the morning session, Southworth's New Language Lessons were adopted without difficulty. ## STATISTICS

CLOSING OF WASATCH ACADEMY

Famous Educational Institution Had a Prosperous Year.

Mr. Pleasant, June 6.—The Wasatch academy of this city has this week closed the most successful year of its existence. The closing exercises have been under way all week, closing last evening with the annual meeting and banquet of the alumni.

The exercises began last Friday evening with a musicale at the academy by the music pupils of the institution. It was a very entertaining event, and was enjoyed by all present.

Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church Rev. L. F. Wishard delivered the anniversary sermon of the academy, his subject being "Ten Gates of Character." Monday evening at the same place Rev. G. H. Thompson, D. D., delivered the subject "How the Oregon Trail Became a Road." Tuesday evening at the church the exercises took place before a large crowd. There were four contestants for the oratorical prize, Misses Evelyn Thompson, Yvonne Richards, subject, "Resources of Our Country," and Misses Evelyn Thompson, Yvonne Richards, subject, "Resources of Our Country." Orman Monahan, subject, "Education," Miss Larsen was awarded the first prize. W. D. Livingston, brother of Attorney W. D. Livingston, will be married in the temple here next Wednesday.

There are still some precincts which have not been reached by the commission up to this time.

Miss May Munk of this city and Archibald Livingston of Fountain, Green, brother of Attorney W. D. Livingston, will be married in the temple here next Wednesday.

Death of George T. Turner.
Eureka, June 6.—George T. Turner died last night at his ranch west of Eureka, from Bright's disease. The body was removed to Eureka, where funeral services will be held at the Mormon church. Burial will be at Provo on Monday. He was 26 years of age and leaves a wife and four children. He was engaged in ranching and had a grading contract on the Oregon Short Line Leanington cut-off.

School over, but Boys' Days come around just the same.

Off go the clothes—that is, as much as the law will allow.

And now comes two months and more of good, hard romps.

You want something that will stand all the pulls and jerks your boy will give it.

If you want Suits, they're here. If you want Hats, they're here.
